

Critical Orientations to Sustainability and Spirituality

Going beyond the present business-as-usual sustainable development theory and practice • Re-casting the present global concerns and issues in the language and mindful narratives of sustainability and spirituality • Encouraging the development and consolidation of conversations/ frameworks/ discourses on sustainability and spirituality • Offering both theoretical and practical solutions and healing approaches to our present global challenges and concerns.

Suitable for students, teachers, public intellectuals and activists who want to look beyond 'religious sectarianism', 'New Age adventurism', 'left-wing ultra-conservatism' and 'corporate utopianism'. Recommended for those who want to explore socially-embedded 'spiritual responses' to planetary challenges that have local impacts. Relevant for those who want to 'think-feel out of the box' for solutions. Useful for conversations and coursework.

Forthcoming Titles: The Spiritual Crisis of Capitalism by Stuart Smithers • Embedded Spirituality: Our Work with Citymakers (Homeless Residents) in India by Indu Prakash Singh • Marxism and Spirituality: Exploring a Promising Relationship by M. Nadarajah • Embracing Sustainability and Spirituality in Asia by Dicky Sofjan
